UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
 NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

EROS, LLC, a Florida Limited Liability
 Company, and SHANNON GREI, d/b/a Nomine, an individual, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated,

Plaintiffs

vs.

LINDEN RESEARCH, INC., a Delaware
 Corporation, and LINDEN RESEARCH
 INTERNATIONAL, INC., a Delaware Corp.,

Defendants

Case No. CV 09 4269 PJH

ANSWER

Trial Date: None set

DEFENDANTS LINDEN RESEARCH, INC. and LINDEN RESEARCH INTERNATIONAL, INC.’s ANSWER

Defendants Linden Research, Inc. (“LR”) and Linden Research International, Inc. (“LRI”), (collectively “Linden”), by undersigned counsel, hereby answer the Complaint of Plaintiffs Eros, LLC and Shannon Grei, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, as follows, based on information reasonably available to Linden:

I. NATURE OF THE ACTION¹

1. Linden admits that LR is headquartered in San Francisco, California, and that LR operates the Second Life virtual world. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

2. Linden admits that the Second Life Terms of Service limit participation outside the “Teen Area” of Second Life to those who have reached the age of majority, that users of Second Life are referred to as “Residents,” and that within Second Life Residents may interact or engage in simulated activities of their choosing subject to the Second Life Terms of Service. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

3. Linden admits that the Second Life Terms of Service provide that Residents retain certain copyright and other intellectual property rights with respect to content they create using Second Life, to the extent they have any such rights under applicable law, and subject to the Second Life Terms of Service. Linden lacks sufficient knowledge to admit or deny the remaining allegations of this Paragraph, and on that basis denies them.

4. Denied.

5. Denied.

6. Linden lacks sufficient knowledge to admit or deny the allegations of this Paragraph concerning Plaintiffs’ motives, and on that basis denies them. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

¹ Linden neither admits nor denies the contents of the various headings and subheadings in the Complaint, which are reproduced herein solely for convenience.

II. PARTIES

7. Linden lacks sufficient knowledge to admit or deny the allegations of this Paragraph, and on that basis denies them.

8. Linden lacks sufficient knowledge to admit or deny the allegations of this Paragraph, and on that basis denies them.

9. Linden admits that LR does business as Linden Lab, operates Second Life, is a Delaware corporation headquartered in San Francisco County, California at 945 Battery Street, San Francisco, California 94111, and does business in the State of California. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

10. Linden admits that there is a corporate relationship between LRI and LR, and that LRI is a Delaware corporation. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

11. Admitted.

12. Linden admits that personal jurisdiction and venue in this Court are proper. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

IV. INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

13. This Paragraph contains no allegations to which an answer is required.

V. FACTS RELATING TO SECOND LIFE

14. Linden denies that all participants can “see, hear, use and modify” all simulated objects. Linden admits the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

15. Linden admits that within Second Life and subject to the Second Life Terms of Service, Residents may exchange with each other digital content that is designed for use with Second Life. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

1 16. Linden is informed and believes, and on that basis admits, that various companies,
2 including those set forth in this Paragraph, have participated in Second Life.

3 17. Linden is informed and believes, and on that basis admits, that Adidas operated a
4 virtual store in Second Life, and that Adidas offered a virtual representation of its a3 Microride
5 running shoe there. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

6 18. On information and belief, admitted.

7 19. Linden admits that subject to the Second Life Terms of Service, a virtual currency
8 and a virtual currency exchange are components of the Second Life virtual world service.

9 20. Linden admits that the Second Life virtual currency is called the “Linden dollar”
10 and is typically represented by the symbol “L$”.

11 21. Linden admits the first sentence of this Paragraph. Linden denies the remaining
12 allegations of this Paragraph.

13 22. Linden admits that LR operates a Linden dollar exchange called the LindeX
14 exchange, through which Residents may exchange Linden dollars for U.S. dollars subject to the 15 Second Life Terms of Service, and that presently such an exchange has a fee of 3.5% per 16 transaction.

17 23. Linden admits that user-to-user transactions in the first quarter of 2009 totalled an 18 amount of Linden dollars that, if exchanged for U.S. dollars at then-current exchange rates,
19 would exceed $120 million. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

20 24. Linden is informed and believes, and on that basis admits, that some digital
21 content exchanged within Second Life is protected by intellectual property rights. Linden denies
22 the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

23 25. Linden admits that LR has promoted that Second Life includes the ability to 24 exchange Linden dollars for digital content that is designed for use with Second Life, subject to 25 the Second Life Terms of Service. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

26
27
28

VI. SECOND LIFE: THE TECHNICAL DETAILS

2 26. Linden admits that the Second Life Grid includes the software and technology
3 underlying the Second Life virtual world. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this
4 Paragraph.

5 27. Linden admits that LR operates Second Life and uses servers to simulate the 3D
6 virtual world environment and host digital content that is used with Second Life; that the term
7 “asset” refers to data associated with digital content used with Second Life; and that an asset has 8 an identifier called a “Universally Unique Identifier” or “UUID.” Linden denies the remaining
9 allegations of this Paragraph.

10 Second Life: How Piracy Works In-World

11 28. Linden admits that Second Life includes a Digital Rights Management (“DRM”)
12 system, and upon information and belief, that persons have used third-party programs to 13 circumvent that DRM in the past. On information and belief, Linden admits that CopyBot is a
14 third-party program that allows users to circumvent the Second Life DRM system and copy
15 digital content that is used with Second Life without regard to the copyright or trademark status
16 of that content. Linden admits that such use is prohibited by the Second Life Terms of Service,
17 and denies the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

18 29. Linden admits that LR may terminate the Second Life accounts of Residents who
19 use CopyBot or other third-party programs to circumvent the Second Life DRM system and copy
20 digital content used with Second Life. Linden admits that LR complies with all provisions of the 21 DMCA, and denies that LR’s “enforcement of intellectual property law is limited to that 22 required” by the DMCA. Linden lacks sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations in 23 the third sentence of this Paragraph, and on that basis denies them. Linden denies the remaining
24 allegations of this Paragraph.

25 30. The first sentence of this Paragraph contains no allegations requiring an answer.
26 Linden lacks sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations in the second sentence of 27 this Paragraph, and on that basis denies them.

28

1 31. Linden lacks sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations in this
2 Paragraph, and on that basis denies them.

3 32. Linden lacks sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations in this
4 Paragraph, and on that basis denies them.

5 33. Linden lacks sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations of this
6 Paragraph regarding Plaintiff Grei's experience, and on that basis denies them. Linden denies
7 the remaining allegations of this Paragraph.

8 34. Denied.

9 35. Linden lacks sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations of this
10 Paragraph, and on that basis denies them.

11 36. Linden admits that subject to the Second Life Terms of Service, Residents may 12 exchange Linden dollars for digital content that is designed for use with Second Life, and that 13 Linden dollars may be exchanged for real-world currency. Linden admits that LR operates the 14 LindeX exchange, that the LindeX charges a 3.5% transaction fee for the exchange of Linden
15 dollars, that LR operates the XStreetSL.com website, and that LR operates an in-world classified
16 ads system. Linden lacks sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations in the final
17 sentence of this Paragraph, and on that basis denies them. Linden denies the remaining
18 allegations of this Paragraph.

19 37. Denied.

20 Second Life Terms of Service

21 38. Linden admits that the Second Life Terms of Service are found at 22 <http://secondlife.com/corporate/tos.php>. Linden denies the remaining allegations of this
23 Paragraph.

24 39. Linden admits that on August 31, 2009, the Second Life Terms of Service
25 included the quoted language.
